

Diagnosis of TCM 2 – DIAG

R.BISHAY

INTRO.

Prof. Dr. R. Bishay (MD, PhD, NFS)

Diagnosis of TCM II

- This is the second part of the Diagnosis of TCM. This is an introductory course to diagnosis. It will introduce how to organize and interpret the collected information using the following TCM syndrome differentiation methods:
- San jiao bian zheng(triple warmer differentiation),
- Wei qi ying xue bian zheng(4 levels differentiation),
- Liu jing bian zheng(6 stages differentiation)

Course Details

- organize and interpret the collected information using the following TCM syndrome differentiation methods:
 1. justify the selection of TCM syndrome differentiation methods for a patient.
 2. integrate syndrome differentiation methods as necessary.

Course Details 2

- Ba gang bian zheng: 8 principles differentiation
- Zang fu bian zheng: organ theory differentiation
- Wu xing bian zheng: 5 elements differentiation
- San jiao bian zheng: triple warmer differentiation
- Wei qi ying xue bian zheng: 4 levels differentiation

Course Details 3

- Liu jing bian zheng: 6 stages differentiation
- Qi xue jin ye bian zheng: qi, blood, body fluid differentiation
- Bing yin bian zheng: pathogenic factors differentiation
- Jing luo bian zheng: meridian differentiation
- Incorporate information obtained from biomedical diagnostic data, medical and health history. Make TCM diagnosis.

Ba gang bian zheng: 8 principles differentiation

- Ba gang bian zheng: 8 principles differentiation
- Yang:
- Yin:

R. Bishay